General Comment

Please ensure that any rule as enacted does not in any way restrict, hinder, or make more expensive the trading of options in IRA, Rollover IRA and 401(k) accounts. I, and many other investors, use the writing of call and put options as means to enhance our returns, lower the cost of securities we choose to purchase, and reduce risk. Require any disclosure of the risks inherent in options trading you deem prudent, but not make it harder for retirees or those saving for retirement who choose to do so to use options as an investment tool.

Thank you for your consideration.
